

Victorian Greens Parliamentary Voting Record 19 December 2006 to 6 December 2007

This table provides details on how the Greens and other parties have voted in the Legislative Council on government bills and non-government motions.  To date, most of the bills the government has introduced have passed because they were uncontroversial. Of the few remaining bills, about half have passed with Greens support and the other half with Liberal and/or National support. Only one Bill has failed entirely.

If you are interested in reading the debates on the bills or non-government motions in the Legislative Council, go to Hansard <http://tex.parliament.vic.gov.au/bin/texhtml?form=VicHansard.adv> and search under the name of the bill or motion, the date and/or the name of the speaker/s.

 A Government Bill is a proposed law presented by the government in the form of a draft Act of Parliament. Most Bills introduced into the Legislative Council have previously been initiated and dealt with by the Legislative Assembly. The overwhelming majority of Bills initiated in the Victorian Parliament fall into this latter category. General (non-government) Business now takes precedence over government business on Wednesdays. It takes the form of non-government motions (or private members' bills, of which four have now been introduced in this parliamentary session) that are listed on the notice paper. The order of debate is a matter of negotiation between the non-government parties.

6 Dec 2007	ROAD LEGISLATION FURTHER AMENDMENT BILL 2007 The Greens proposed an amendment to remove a clause from the bill that would have allowed the release of information on individuals that is held by VicRoads to outside organisations. This was argued because of a lack of privacy safeguards in the bill. The amendment was not supported by any other parties.	Grn- For ALP- For Lib-For Nat-For DLP-For

4 Dec 2007	ANIMAL LEGISLATION AMENDMENT (ANIMAL CARE) BILL 2007 This bill made a large number of changes to marginally improve provisions for animal welfare and increasing penalties for cruelty to animals. The Greens proposed an amendment to ban the use of steel jawed traps in Victoria – in line with the ban in NSW. This failed to gain support from any of the other parties. The bill also increased penalties for non-compliance with permits for rodeos. The Greens took the opportunity to point out that rodeos are a cruel ‘spectator’ sport in which animals are injured and that they should be banned.	Grn- For ALP– For Lib-For Nat-For DLP-For

22 Nov 2007	TRANSPORT LEGISLATION AMENDMENT BILL 2007 The Greens proposed a number of amendments including a provision that would entitle overseas students to use public transport at concessional rates in line with practice elsewhere in Australia (excepting NSW). The DLP supported this Greens amendment but it was opposed by ALP, Liberal & National parties.	Grn- For ALP– For Lib-For Nat-For DLP-For
22 Nov 2007	PORT SERVICES AMENDMENT BILL 2007 The Greens moved to adjourn debate on this bill on the grounds that the channel deepening project was yet to be approved by either the state or federal environment ministers. The motion was supported by the Liberals but was narrowly defeated by the ALP and Nationals. The Greens subsequently proposed a series of amendments to stop the creation of exclusion zones and prevent contaminated waste from being dumped in the waters controlled by the Port of Melbourne Corporation or the Victorian Channels Authority. These amendments were supported by a sole Liberal, Mr Bruce Atkinson but opposed by the ALP, Liberal & National parties.	Grn-Against ALP– For Lib-For Nat-For DLP-For

22 Nov 2007	GRAFFITI PREVENTION BILL 2007 The Greens opposed this bill because it proposed excessive penalties for a range of “graffiti” offences, including search without warrant and reversed the “onus of proof” (presumption of innocence) for the offence of carrying prescribed graffiti implements (spray cans, markers etc), repealed provisions in the Transport Act for supervised clean-up programs and imposed a penalty of two years imprisonment for marking graffiti. The Greens and legal bodies were concerned that these penalties are too harsh and not appropriate for minors – police statistics show that 70% of graffiti offenders are minors.	Grn-Against ALP– For Lib-For Nat-For DLP-For
22 Nov 2007	EMERGENCY SERVICES LEGISLATION AMENDMENT BILL 2007 The National Party moved a reasoned amendment - that ‘this bill be withdrawn and redrafted to provide for the replenishment, by the government, of all water from privately owned storages, used by the Country Fire Authority and/or the Metropolitan Fire Brigade to fight fires and to undertake other authorised activities’. The Greens and other non-government parties supported the reasoned amendment, although the major concern of the Greens is that people could be forcibly removed from their properties, even if defending their property in accordance with their bushfire survival plan as recommended and encouraged by the CFA and AFAC. The bill is therefore lapsed.	Lapsed

The Greens proposed several amendments to clarify aspects of the plebiscite process – amendments were passed together with the amended bill.	Grn- For ALP– Against Lib-For Nat-For DLP-For

21 Nov 2007	Non-government business – GAMING – PUBLIC LOTTERIES LICENCE Philip Davis (Liberal) moved this motion which noted that the Leader of the Government had on two occasions failed to comply with resolutions of the Council to produce documents concerning the awarding of new public lottery licences. The motion cited the Leader of the Government as guilty of contempt of the house and consequently required production of the documents by 4.00 pm the following day (22 November) with the sanction of suspension for non-compliance. The motion was supported by all the non-government parties. Postscript – on the following day at 4.00 pm John Lenders, the Leader of the Government in the Council, was suspended from the house for the remainder of the day as the required documents had not been produced.	Grn-For ALP–Against Lib-For Nat-For DLP-For
21 Nov 2007	Non-government business – GREENS MOTION – PIG FARMING – CODE OF PRACTICE Sue Pennicuik (Greens) moved a motion to disallow the revised Code of Accepted Farming Practice for the Welfare of Pigs 2007 (Revision No. 2). This code, similarly to codes applying to other production animals such as battery hens, exempts animal farmers from the Prevention to Cruelty to Animals Act, if they follow the relevant code. The Code will permit, among other things, the use of narrow sow stalls for the entire duration of the sow’s pregnancy for at least the next 10 years, and allow the keeping of sows with piglets in ‘farrowing crates’ not much bigger than the sow’s body. Europe, NZ and parts of the USA are moving away from the use of sow stalls and towards more ‘free range’ pig farming methods. The motion was supported by the DLP.	Grn-For ALP–Against Lib-Against Nat-Against DLP-For
21 Nov 2007	Non-government business – GREENS MOTION – PLANNING – YARRA AMENDMENT Greg Barber (Greens) moved this motion seeking to revoke amendment C95 of the City of Yarra Planning Scheme. Parliament retains the power to disallow planning scheme amendments made under the Planning & Environment Act. C95 is a state government imposed planning amendment, which is opposed by the Yarra Council and community. The motion was supported by the DLP and National Party but opposed by the ALP and Liberal Party and so did not carry.	Grn- For ALP–Against Lib- Against Nat-For DLP-For
20 Nov 2007	TRANSPORT ACCIDENT & ACCIDENT COMPENSATION ACTS AMENDMENT BILL 2007 The Greens proposed amendments to prevent the removal of benefits paid to injured workers and to ensure that medical assessments for spinal cord injuries occurred pre-operatively not post-operatively as the legislation provided. The amendments (including similar amendments proposed by the National Party) were supported by the National Party and DLP, but opposed by the ALP and Liberal party. 31 Oct 2007	Non-government business – GAMING: PUBLIC LOTTERIES LICENCE (CENSURE MOTION) This motion of Philip Davis (Liberal) noted that documents concerning the awarding of new public lottery licences and initially requested on the 19 September and again on the 10 October had still not been received by the due date of 15 October. The motion noted the government's "apparent belief that it is not accountable to the Parliament of Victoria" and asserted the right of Council to scrutinise and hold to account the executive in all aspects. The motion then moved to censure the leader of the government in the Council, John Lenders for failing to comply with previous Council orders. The government was given till the 5 November to comply with an order to produce the tender documents.	Grn- For ALP- Against Lib-For Nat-For DLP-For
30 Oct 2007	Non-government business – SELECT COMMITTEE MEMBERSHIP This motion of Matt Viney (ALP) proposed to replace the party nomination system of committee membership with a system based on proportional representation. Mr Viney argued that as the Legislative Council was now elected by a form of proportional representation this should also be adopted as the method for membership of committees. The principle currently used for membership of select committees requires every party to be represented, with the government (ALP) and opposition (Liberal) parties nominating two members and the other parties (Greens, Nat, DLP) nominating one member, to provide a seven-member committee model. The motion was not supported by the non-government parties on the basis that the participation of all parties on Council committees was a more important objective than strict numerical representation, which is impossible to achieve on a committee in any case.	Grn- Against ALP- For Lib- Against Nat- Against DLP- Against

10 Oct 2007	Non-government business – GAMING: PUBLIC LOTTERIES LICENCE and SELECT COMMITTEE ON GAMING LICENSING This motion of Philip Davis (Liberal) noted that documents relating to the awarding of new public lottery licences and requested on the 19 September in a motion of the Council had not been received by the due date of 27 September. The motion reaffirmed the inherent power of the Council, as a house of parliament, to request documents and required that a range of documents relating to the lotteries tender process as provided to the Minister for Gaming be produced no later than COB 15 October. John Lenders (ALP), the leader of the government in the Council, argued that the Gambling Regulation Act 2003 provided specific secrecy provisions that prevented the Minister for Gaming from disclosing documents relating to the lottery tender process. This argument would imply that the Council's right to request documents might be effectively negated by specific statute provisions in any Act of Parliament and further entrench executive privilege. Several amendments were proposed by the ALP that would have removed the key active clauses of the motion. Neither the argument nor the amendments were supported by the non-government parties.	Grn- For ALP- Against Lib-For Nat-For DLP-For

9 Oct 2007	JUSTICE & ROAD LEGISLATION AMENDMENT (LAW ENFORCEMENT) BILL 2007 This Bill amended a number of Acts in the justice area. The Greens proposed several amendments to proposed changes to media requests for police photos "mug shots" of convicted persons. The Greens amendments sought to provide a element of procedural fairness by requiring 1) that any person photographed by police is made aware at the time, that the media may request a photo if the person is found guilty of a crime, and 2) the timely notification, i.e. before the photo is released, to the person that such a media request has been made, to allow the person to notify the Commissioner of any extenuating circumstances.	Grn- For ALP- For Lib-For Nat-For DLP-For

These amendments were supported by the DLP but defeated by the ALP and Nationals. The Greens also moved an amendment to reduce the amount at which a payout from a machine must be paid by cheque. Both houses have the right to request attendance under their standing orders. The debate was over this issue and the Greens supported a rejection by the Council of the challenge from the Assembly regarding that fundamental right. 15 Mar 2007	PARLIAMENTARY LEGISLATION AMENDMENT BILL The bill proposed amendments to the Parliamentary Committees Act 2003 regarding the structure and constitution of joint investigatory parliamentary committees and to allow the committee system to focus on the government's commitments to the state's economic and infrastructure development and rural and regional Victoria. (Second reading speech). It also amended the Parliamentary Salaries and Superannuation Act 1968 to increase the remuneration of certain MPs serving in senior positions on joint investigatory parliamentary committees. A Greens amendment (based on an amendment moved by Mr Ingram in the lower house) sought to include Public Works within the scope of the Economic Development and Infrastructure Committee. It did not go to a vote. The Greens proposed another amendment requiring that the Public Accounts & Estimates Committee be chaired by a non-government member and contain a majority of non-government members – this was argued by the Greens on “best practice” audit and governance grounds. It was supported only by the Liberals and DLP. The Government thereby preserved its majority membership on all joint house committees and the chair of all committees except the Rural and Regional Committee, chaired by the Nationals. The Greens, Liberals and DLP also opposed the salary increases to Committee chairs, but these were carried with the Nationals supporting the government. The bill entrenched party status at eleven members of parliament, but reduced the existing requirement from four upper house members to two, which coincides with the result the National Party achieved at the 2006 election. The bill passed with Nationals support.	Grn-Against ALP –For Lib-Against Nat-For DLP-Against

14 Mar 2007	Non-government business – PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS This motion asserted the right of the Council to compel any document or person to be produced on demand. The Greens case was based on parliamentary practice in the Senate and NSW and the powers conferred on the Victorian parliament via the Westminster system. Government members argued that they had a constitutional right to refuse a document in certain circumstances. The motion was supported by all non-government parties and opposed by the government.	Grn-For ALP-Against Lib-For Nat-For DLP-For
14 Mar 2007	WATER AMENDMENT (CRITICAL WATER INFRASTRUCTURE PROJECTS) BILL Greens were concerned this bill gave the Planning Minister too much power and there was no transparency on planning controls. Greens and Nationals voted against the Bill at second reading stage. Final bill passed with Liberal amendments which were supported by the Greens, Nationals and DLP.	Grn-Against ALP –For Lib-For Nat-For DLP-For

28 Feb 2007	Non-government business - SESSIONAL ORDERS All non-government parties supported several changes to the sessional orders including the abolition of speaking time limits and expansion of the time allowed for non-government business on Wednesdays. The Greens successfully moved an amendment regarding establishing an obligation on Upper House ministers to take questions without notice on matters where the relevant minister sat in the Legislative Assembly (Lower House), as is the practice in the Senate and other parliaments. Previously these questions were taken on notice and procedures to deal with unanswered questions on notice. The motion was supported by all non-government parties and opposed by the government.	Grn-For ALP-Against Lib-For Nat-For DLP-For
